

This is an aerial photograph of a residential neighborhood, overlaid with a map showing property boundaries and parcel identification numbers. The map uses a color-coded system: pink lines delineate individual lots, blue lines indicate larger parcels or possibly water features, and yellow lines mark specific areas. Numerous numerical labels are scattered across the map, representing individual lots or parcels. The terrain is a mix of green grass, trees, and built-up areas with houses and buildings. The map is oriented with North at the top.
